Tour Summary

Lying just two hours east of Los Angeles or San Diego, and a one-hour flight from San Francisco, Palm Springs has long been the favorite hideaway of Hollywood stars. Set amidst a breathtaking mountain backdrop, the European-style "village" welcomes hikers, golfers, spa enthusiasts, or simply anyone wishing to relax. Palm trees, swimming pools, street markets, outdoor restaurants and cafes, and Mid-Century Modern architecture abound. Choose from dozens of stylish yet affordable unique intimate lodgings. There's plenty to see and do, too - a revolving aerial tramway, vintage furniture shops, art galleries, a casino, native American culture, and former Hollywood stars' homes.

Exotic Palm Springs California

Welcome to paradise - exotic Palm Springs, California! Join me as we step aboard the world's largest rotating tramcar to journey up the steep face of Mount San Jacinto. There are striking 360 degree views and trails with scenic overlooks. If you're here in the summer, you'll escape the heat.

Before we go, here's a sample of other things we're going to enjoy together.

Walk through old Palm Springs, taking in pioneer houses and a historic theater with a unique vaudeville show. Learn about the original Indian settlers, who still play an active role in local culture.

Enjoy a weekly street market with original art, jewelry, handicrafts, and food.

Drive through neighborhoods where Hollywood stars lived and played as early as the 1920s, and see distinctive examples of Spanish Colonial, hacienda-style, and Mid-Century Modern architecture.

Visit unique Old World hotels, bed and breakfasts, country inns, and even Polynesian kitsch resorts. Get insider advice on the best places to dine - from romantic poolside restaurants to great value dinner deals.

Shop for cool resort wear, Mid-Century Modern decor, and even vintage cars.

Hike the Indian Canyons to see streams and waterfalls, and picnic in a palm tree oasis.

So join me as we savor the sights, sounds, and tastes of this very special place.
Welcome to Palm Springs!
