

Sedona, Arizona

Red Rock Country

VISUAL TRAVEL TOURS

Maps Show You Where... We Show You Why!

Table of Contents

Cover

Tour Summary

Sedona Snapshots

Tips

Chapter 1 - All-American Road

Chapter 2 - Famous, Bizarre, & Fun

Chapter 3 - Cruising Main Street

Chapter 4 - Schnebly & the Canyon

Chapter 5 - Western Highlights

Maps

Author Biography

Publisher

Tour Summary

Sedona is a year-round vacation destination tucked into a national forest about 100 miles south of the Grand Canyon. More than four million visitors tour this picturesque little town each year, some as day trippers, but most as overnight guests at one of the world-class resorts or delightful inns. In addition to the amazing red-rock scenery, which is much like that of the Grand Canyon, the area features nationally-protected ancient Native American sites, miles of marked multi-use trails, dozens of upscale art galleries and shops, and a variety of restaurants serving regional and international dishes in all price ranges.

Back to Table of Contents

Sedona Snapshots

You've chosen an excellent vacation destination! Most visitors come to see the remarkable red-rock landscape...

...and many are drawn by its luxurious spa retreats...

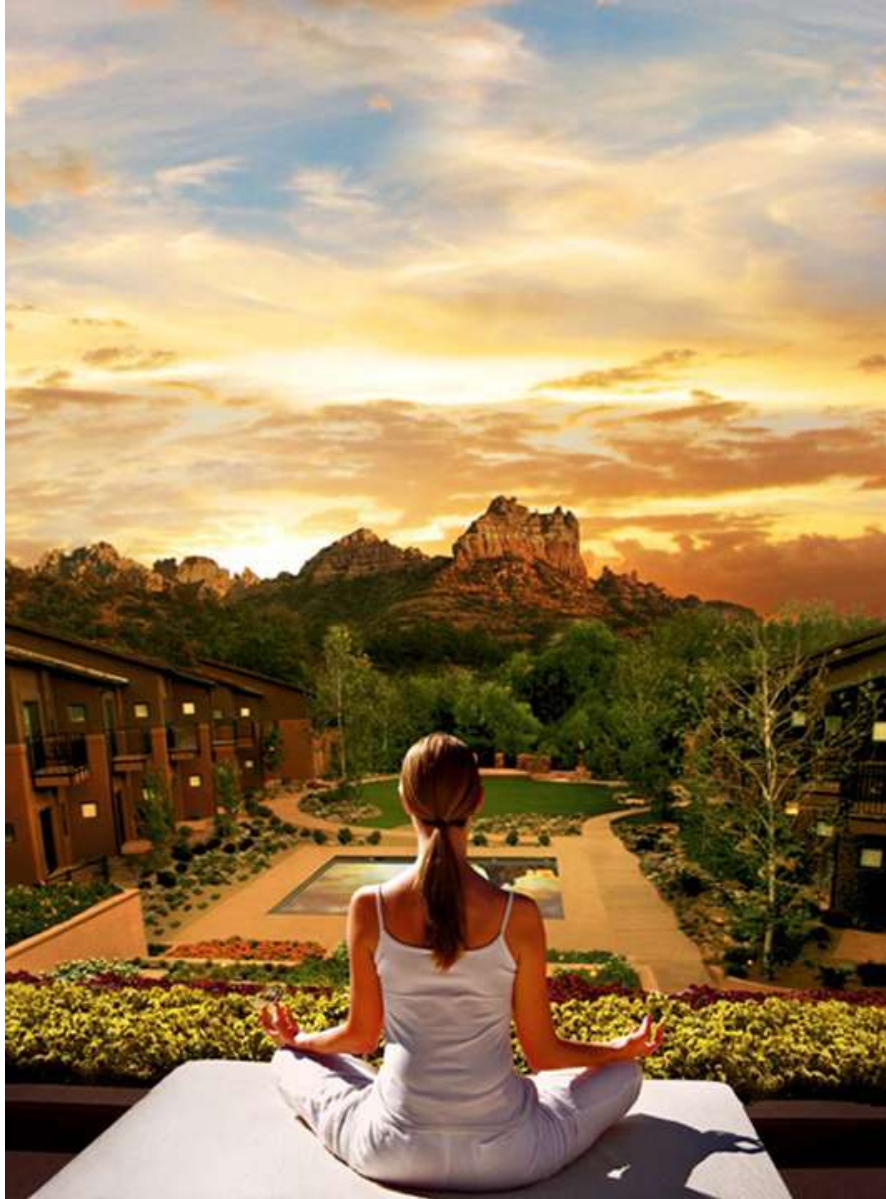

...superior art galleries...

...and distinctive specialty shops.

In addition to being a favored wedding site and a photographer's dream location...

...the area has special appeal to those seeking physical healing or mental rejuvenation.

Hiking and biking are major pastimes...

...and you can spend several days exploring the amazing ruins of Native American dwellings that are scattered in the nearby mountains.

Tour operators organize guided excursions to suit every interest and fitness level...

...and we'll give you an overview of options...

...but you may prefer to plan your own itinerary...

...and set your own pace using this tour.

Back to Table of Contents