Tour Summary

Easter Island has intrigued and mystified scientists for centuries and tourists for decades. With over 800 Moai statues either standing erect, lying, or partially finished, Rapa Nui emits a mystique unmatched by any other Island. Located 2200 miles from Chile and 2500 miles from Tahiti, it is the most remote inhabited island in the world. At 64 square miles and shaped like a triangle, it packs a lot of mystery and adventure into one small place. This tour provides the details to an enjoyable trip, whether it's virtual or on the island.

Introduction

Easter Island has much to offer the curious traveler. From mysterious moai statues to extinct volcanoes, there is much to do and see.

On day one we will take a walking tour of the village of Hanga Roa and surrounding area. Day two, we will tour the Island by motor vehicle from end to end seeing moai statues and extinct volcanoes.

The 15 moai statues at Ahu Tongariki are the largest on one platform.

The oddity of the quarry at Rano Raraku will leave you speechless.

And petroglyphs will leave you wondering.

The beauty of Rano Kau crater is breathtaking.

While the peacefulness of Rano Raraku crater leaves you with a sense of calm.

Your view of unfinished toppled moai will fill you with questions.

The only ocean facing moai at Ahu Akivi will leave you with more.

A visit to main street Hanga Roa will bring you back to the 21st century (sort of).

Hanging out at the beach is not on the top of the list, but if you must experience sand in your shorts, head to Anakena Beach.

For the rest of us, the fishing port Caleta Hanga Roa will have to suffice.

Enjoy a moai-filled sunset that can never be captured anywhere else in the world.
