Overview of Madrid & This Tour

Did you know that the Prado Museum in Madrid is the second largest museum in the world, after the Louvre in Paris? Or that the Prado, Reina Sofia and Museo Thyssen together hold the largest art collection in the world? Did you know that Madrid is home to the world's oldest restaurant? And that Francisco Goya actually worked as a cleaner in this restaurant? Madrid is a majestic city full of secrets waiting to be explored. And you'll be doing just that in this walk.

Home to magnificent museums, ancient churches, world-renowned art, landscaped gardens and royal palaces, few cities can match what Madrid has to offer the art and culture lover. Strolling through the streets is a great way to get a feel for this city, as most of its main museums and sights are located within a five-kilometer radius.

This tour will take you on a walk through some of Madrid's most beautiful and prominent buildings. We'll pass through world-class museums like the Prado and the Reina Sofia, home to works by Grand Masters like Pablo Picasso, Salvador Dali and Goya. And you'll also get some tips on when to visit for free, or at a reduced price.

We'll explore palaces like the Palacio Real and the Crystal Palace. We'll also be viewing impressive structures like the Catedral de la Almudena and the Atocha, a railway station that's home to a mini tropical jungle! All of this comes complete with loads of juicy insider information. Join in on the walk, and discover these treasures for yourself.

Before getting started, please bear in mind that most of the sights we'll be covering are clustered across the east and west sections of the city. Each section takes approximately three hours to complete - that's without entering the museums and palace. So if you're looking for a relaxing walk, a suggestion would be to split it across two days. For the sturdy or time-pressed, it can be done in one day, but be prepared for a long walk.
